To the attention of Mr. Martin Pedersen, Chairman of IFZA, and strategic investors

Dear members of the Dubai government and business community:

In my capacity as President of the Senate's Economic Commission, I would like to extend my warmest greetings and express my appreciation for the initiatives that contribute to strengthening economic, commercial, and business relations between Mexico and the United Arab Emirates.

Mexico has significant opportunities to expand its international economic presence and create new avenues for collaboration with strategic markets. In this context, I applaud the efforts being made by the business sector to foster closer ties between entrepreneurs, investors, and institutions from both countries.

I have learned of the activities promoted by the Intercontinental Host Consortium and the upcoming Made in Mexico 2026 Intercontinental Cup, scheduled for November. I believe it is positive that these types of initiatives seek to create spaces for networking, economic development, and the exchange of opportunities among different business stakeholders.

I also acknowledge the work that Patricia Olguín Borja has been doing to promote business relationships and facilitate connections with various stakeholders in the region. In that regard, I welcome the creation of communication channels with organizations like IFZA and with businesspeople interested in exploring collaboration opportunities with Mexico.

It would be valuable for stakeholders to explore, within the scope of their respective powers and responsibilities, possible mechanisms for cooperation and participation in initiatives that contribute to trade, investment, and economic development between both regions.

From the Economic Commission we will continue to promote dialogue, the exchange of experiences and all those actions that, within the corresponding institutional framework, contribute to strengthening Mexico's economic relationship with other nations.

Greetings.

Senator Emmanuel Reyes Carmona
Chairman of the Economics Committee
